New Items Appear In Town Warrant

One Proposal Coming Before Annual Town Meeting Provides for 40-Hour Work Week for Laborers—School Committee Asks Money for Additions.

In the 1949 annual Town Meeting Warrant which will come up before Town Meeting members at the March 21 meeting, an advance copy of which was furnished the press today by James J. Golden, Secretary to the Board of Selectmen and Town Clerk, there are several new proposals. One of the principal items to be considered is one that provides a 40-hour week for laborers on the various town projects. The men now work a 44-hour week but are paid for 48 hours. Under the proposed schedule they would receive the same pay, but the working time would be reduced four hours.

Under Article 20, the School Committee asks for an appropriation for the erection of an addition to the Junior High School West, and in Article 21 the committee requests an appropriation for an addition to the Hardy School. Under Article 23 the committee and the Board of Park Commissioners ask for an appropriation for the construction of a field house, including athletic facilities and furnishings at the Warren A. Peirce Field. And the Junior High School Center Building Committee in Article 22 requests an appropriation for an addition to the present Junior High School Center.

Hudson Lines Plan New Service For Arlmont Village

The Hudson Bus Lines notified the Board of Selectmen this week that in view of the action of the Department of Public Utilities in refusing the petition of the MTA to run a shuttle bus service from the standpipe at the Heights to Arlmont Village, Hudson is now working on a proposed schedule as suggested at the State House hearing last December. This schedule is designed to meet the needs of the residents of Arlmont.

The Hudson Company told the Selectmen that it would soon put into effect a schedule on a trial basis to determine the sort of service best suited for the needs of the residents in this particular area.

The Board of Public Works asks for the appointment of a committee to study a method for the disposal of rubbish collected by the town, and also for the appointment of a committee to investigate the feasibility of utilizing for some municipal purpose the land lying south of Summer street known as Fowle's Pond and adjacent land owned by the town.

Would Honor Barry

Under Article 39 there is a petition for the naming of the land now owned by the town and under the jurisdiction of the Park Commissioners on Summer and Forest streets as the "Daniel P. Barry Playground" in honor of the late Lt. Daniel P. Barry of the Police Department.

The meeting will also consider the request, under Article 40, for an appropriation of $3,500 for the purpose of furnishing Christmas lighting at the Heights, Center and East Arlington in conjunction with the efforts of the Arlington Chamber of Commerce.

Under Article 26 the Committee on Study of Town Government for Town Meeting again asks Town Meeting Members to

200 PTA Members Against Abandoning Junior High Center

Some 200 parents, members of the PTA of Junior High Center, Russell, Cutter, Parmenter and Brackett Schools, met Tuesday night in Junior High Center and passed a resolution to the School Committee approving the continued use of the Center for seventh, eighth and ninth grade pupils.

When the formal vote was taken on the resolution there was just one dissenter, a woman, according to Aram B. Sarkisian, president of the Center PTA, who presided. The sentiment in favor of not abandoning this school was overwhelming. Mr. Sarkisian said. Clifford R. Hall, superintendent of schools, was present and explained to the PTA members that the problem of the Junior High Center was still under consideration by the School Committee.

Local Representatives To Have Important Committee Positions

Arlington's State Representatives, Henry Keenan and Hollis M. Gott, have this week received important appointments on the various state committees. The Speaker of the House, Thomas J. O'Neill, has appointed Gott to the influential Committee on Taxation and the Committee on Civil Service.

Keenan will likewise serve on two important committees—Metropolitan Affairs and Election Laws. Another honor for Mr. Gott is the election to the Republican State Committee. This came as a result of the decision to expand the committee to include each of the fourteen Congressional Districts. Gott will represent the 5th District, which includes most of Middlesex County.

RAWSON CONFIDENTLY LAUNCHES CAMPAIGN FOR PUBLIC WORKS

Thomas R. Rawson, Jr., of 54 Hutchinson road, explained this week his carefully organized drive to win in the coming local elections a spot on the Board of Public Works. Rawson opposes incumbent Thomas J. O'Neill. He and his workers seem confident of success.

Mr. Rawson has been a resident and citizen of the town for 15 years and is proprietor of the contracting firm that bears his name.

He points out that his election would mean an actual loss of business, since his firm would then be unable to accept any work for the Town of Arlington. Mr. Rawson has always been much interested also in sports.

Philharmonic to Have Scholarship Fund

The Philharmonic Society of Arlington announced today that it has established a scholarship fund which will be open to any music student who is a member of the society or who has been associated with the chorus or orchestra for a year, and also any resident of Arlington, the age limit to be determined each year by the scholarship committee. The first award will be made some time this year, the committee announced.

It is understood that each scholarship will be worth from $200 to $300 and that the winners each year will have the privilege of choosing his or her school of music. The committee, however, will determine the number of scholarships to be awarded each year as well as the amount of each award.

Each candidate will submit in writing, not later than one month prior to the auditions date, a formal application on a blank furnished by the society. Each contestant will have the privilege of using his own accompanist or one will be provided by the society if requested. Auditions are expected to start the latter part of April.

But when the police and equipment arrived there they found Harry Lence of that address just pulling a young Collie dog, which had fallen through the ice, ashore. The dog is owned by Edward Bibault of 399 Mystic street.

Official Points Out Power of Town Meeting Moderator

The third in the series of Forums on Local Government was held in the Junior Library Hall on Thursday evening, Jan. 27. Joseph H. Gaudet of the Department of Civic Education in the schools, presided. He presented Selectman Joseph A. Peterson, who outlined the Selectmen's authority under our by-laws. The speaker paid a high tribute to Clarence Needham, Town Accountant, and stated his position is one of the most important in Town Government, as he sets up the accounting system, holds all vouchers, certifies purchases made and authorizes such purchases, also all compensations including welfare.

Mr. Peterson outlined the joint board of survey and read the agenda of the last Selectmen's meeting which revealed its arduous tasks.

John L. Murphy, member of the Board of Public Works and former Town Counsel, spoke of the power of a moderator (at Town Meetings) to be more than that of a chief of police or the Supreme Court.

The B. P. W. employs 143, all under civil service. He explained removal of garbage, refuse and snow, which Mr. Murphy stated was no haphazard affair, proving his statement by showing a sheet of papers on which the schedule was recorded. He explained Chapter 90 (gasoline tax) as differing from Chapter 89 and its effect on the town. Both speakers answered questions.

Mr. Gaudet urged a large attendance at the Forum Feb. 3, when the subject will be the School Committee. The speaker will be Dr. William J. O'Keefe, Boston College Law School, formerly Legal Adviser on School Law for the State Department of Education.

Okinawa Hero Comes Home for Burial

Marine hero William A. Walker, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Walker of 19 Whittemore street, who was killed on Okinawa in July, 1945, while serving with the First Marine Division, will be brought home to Arlington on Monday. He will be taken to the Grannan Funeral Home, 378 Massachusetts avenue, where friends may call on Tuesday from 2 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon and from 7 to 10 o'clock in the evening. A military funeral under the auspices of Arlington Post 39, American Legion, will be held Wednesday at 9 a. m., followed by a solemn high mass of requiem at St. Agnes' Church. Burial will be in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery.

Mr. Walker, who was 22 when he enlisted in 1943, was a pharmacist's mate, second class. He received his training in Newport, R. I. He was a graduate of St. Agnes' School and Arlington High School, class of 1941. In addition to his parents he is survived by three sisters, Mrs. John Wilson, Kathleen and Rita Walker, and a brother, John, all of Arlington.

—Members of the Park Avenue Congregational Church Fellowship enjoyed a splash party last Saturday evening at the Cambridge Y.M.C.A. The group were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. David Bremer and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon MacLeod.

—Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Boyd of 27 Ashland street had as their guest last week-end Miss Lucille Kidder, a member of the Faculty of Westbrook Junior College at Westbrook, Maine.

REPUBLICAN BUNGLING

One is forced to wonder sometimes if the present leadership of the Republican party is totally bereft of clear thinking or even common sense. The latest example of ineptness on the part of those who would rule the party was staged at the recent Omaha conference when considerable dirty political linen was washed in public.

We know little about the merits of Mr. Hugh D. Scott, Jr., chairman of the Republican Executive Committee, who seemed to be the center of what developed into almost a brawl except that he is insistent that Mr. Dewey run a third time for the Presidency, despite the fact that he has brought his party to defeat twice.

It is difficult to believe that Governor Dewey will have the affrontery to seek another chance for the Presidency—and almost certain defeat—unless he continues to listen to the bad advice of the little circle of arrogant confidantes in Albany whose bad advice how NOT to meet the issues brought up by Mr. Truman in the last campaign resulted in the governor's defeat—and the defeat of the party.

However, the more sane element in the Republican party has four years in which to find a suitable candidate who will have the confidence of his party—and the voters.

PASSING OF A LANDMARK

Elsewhere in the paper there is a story of the end of the famous old George Clark stables, written by our sentimental reporter. It is a story of the days when fine saddle horses were the rule on the highways rather than the exception, and of the horse and surrey with the fringe on top. There are not so many left who can look back that far, but The Lady here who keeps us informed on the history of the town remembers the night of the big dance when the stables were formally dedicated. She recalls that she was just 17 at the time and, therefore, not permitted to attend the society event of that year. Young ladies of the period were not permitted to stay up later than 10 p. m. But there were compensations, among them the satisfaction of owning a fine saddle horse.

BOY SCOUT WEEK

This coming week, beginning Sunday, is Boy Scout Week, marking the 39th anniversary of the incorporation of the movement in the nation's capital. We hope that every citizen in every city, village and hamlet will observe it, for it is the largest birthday observance of young America. It is strictly non-commercial, American to the core and has done more for the youth of the country than any other force. Let us encourage the Scouts in every way possible, especially on next Tuesday, the actual birthday, when the entire membership will recommit themselves to the Scout Oath or Promise at 8:15 p. m. in the four time zones. There are now 2,200,000 Scouts and leaders in this country alone, a splendid tribute to the distinguished men who started the movement as well as those who have guided its destiny throughout the years.

CUPID LIVES ON

We have just been reminded by one of the more sentimental members of our staff that St. Valentine's Day is near at hand—February 14 to be exact—and that there must be many of our readers, both young and old, who still believe that Cupid is an active agent in their lives.

Our sentimental friend believes also that elderly and not so elderly couples are possessed of as much sentiment as newlyweds and adolescent sweethearts. In other words, Cupid lives on to the very end. Of course we are quite willing to go along with him most of the way on this sentimental journey as we recall the youthful days when we surreptitiously placed on the desk of our favorite school girl a few penny candies with such adoring messages as "I Love You Truly," "You Are My Only True Love," etc., etc., and then sent the unsuspecting teacher a comic Valentine depicting an old maid with a silly smile. The teacher of our youth dreaded St. Valentine's Day. But nowadays one's wife or future wife rather looks forward to being remembered with such gifts as flowers, a box of candy, or even a more expensive gift.

THE HAUNTED HOUSE

Who hasn't heard of the shortage
Of houses during the war
Listen, and I shall tell you
Of many I did explore.

I tramped o'er Boston's South End town
Climbed the streets of Beacon Hill
Small hall bedrooms, third floor up,
Good grief—I can see them still.

"Across the river you shall go,
A girl friend said one day,
To Cambridge I went, so full of hope;
What I found, I needn't say.

I walked the streets of Somerville,
Till I found a run-down house,
Hardly a creature lived there
'Cept perhaps a hungry mouse.

A roof o'er my head I had to have
So my money I paid down,
With soap and water, paint and brush
I surely went to town!

Four long years I tried and tried
To make of it a home;
The faucets leaked, the stove did smoke
And I was all alone.

The plaster, it was falling down,
I could glimpse thru softwood floors,
A cellar, dark and musty
With spider webs galore.

My husband from the war returned
From years of fighting the Jap.
He took one look and all he said
"So I came home to that!"

'Tis now the year of '48
Please with us rejoice,
For we at last are leaving
That danged old haunted house.

That Man About Town

By MAT

A major political event of this year, to date, will take place Saturday, Sunday and Monday next. This will be the selection of candidates who are to be endorsed by the Citizens' Committee. The Qualifications Committee with Harold N. Anderson as chairman, Donald Bresnan, Roscoe O. Elliott, John F. Mulvey and William B. Houser, already is being flooded by letters of qualifications by the various candidates. Pressure groups are working on the committee, too. Knowing the estimable gentlemen, we are sure that whomever they do endorse it will be their best choice. This subcommittee's job will be over by Sunday when it meets with the officers and Board of Directors, who in turn will approve or reject the initial choices. Here again, we are sure that the record, the qualifications and town services rendered, will be the guiding factors. From which, we feel, will emerge the final endorsements. On Monday next, the membership meeting will have its opportunity to approve or reject the recommendations brought forth. Thus runs democracy!

Among the silly rumors floating about political centers is that one or more of the candidates, if elected, will proceed to spend all the town's money. This, of course, is sheer nonsense. It is the town meeting members who authorize any expenditure and you to get them in order. Then the control of the town's monies is in their hands, not in any elected individual's. Men who would stoop to such electioneering would do well to examine their conscience before they cast any stones." As we have said before, when someone repeats a rumor to you, ask him or her the source, check it, call the aggrieved candidate and find out for yourself the truth. Let's have fair play and elect officials on their merits.

We explored the night flood-lit Fowle's Pond recently and watched the skaters. It looked like a scene from Fairyland. This is one of the finest improvements seen in Arlington for some time. And we can thank an active Park Department for it.

The new waiting room in the Old Town Hall is open. We chanced to look it over Sunday afternoon. Sure is a spot to get out of the cold! We hope those who use it endeavor to assist in keeping it clean. It would make a nice place for a quick lunch such as we see at many bus stations.

Many times we have heard the expression, "How can we lower taxes?" We have given this much thought lately. Have you? It seems to us, from many conversations, that people are well aware that something must be done. Many of them are trying to find ideas to transfer to our town officials without knowing how to go about it. Some ideas are good, others not so good. But here's where we come in.

Set your ideas down on paper. Mail them in to us. We'll go over them and, if necessary, help you to get them in order. Then we'll see that the proper officials get them. If you wish, we will not disclose your name. But we are NOT going to pay attention to any anonymous letters. So, instead of griping at taxes, let's all put our minds to it and find ways and means of cutting them.

Reminiscences of a New York boyhood at the turn of the century. Martensen, A. K. Hitler and His Admirals. Based upon thousands of documents captured from the German navy, the author tells the whole story of World War II at sea, as seen through German eyes. Pepin, Harriet. Fundamentals of Apparel Design. ADVENTURE that's Scouting!

39th Anniversary
FEBRUARY 6 TO 12
BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

In every part of the nation more than 2,200,000 boys and their adult leaders, will observe Boy Scout Week, Feb. 6th to 12th, marking the 39th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America. The theme of the celebration is "Adventure—that's Scouting!" This year the movement is emphasizing the fun and fellowship its members get out of the game of Scouting. More high adventure is planned in the out-of-doors. Their adventure in citizenship will find Scouts emphasizing civic service activities, emergency service training and world Scouting relationships. During Boy Scout Week, Scouts, their parents and countless communities will honor the volunteer adult leaders of the nation's 70,000 Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Senior Units. Above is the official poster marking the Scout birthday.

Police Chief Urges Cautious Driving

"Take your time in winter-time. Please drive carefully." This plea for cautious driving came today from Police Chief Archie F. Bullock in the wake of the first appreciable snowfall of the year. "We're receiving too many calls for accident investigation in which people are being injured," the Chief said. "Our job is to prevent accidents as well as investigate them and we'd rather do the preventing. We don't like accidents any more than the people who are involved in them. That is why I'm pleading to all drivers to be extra careful."

Chief Bullock said that numerous cars were reported skidding around or becoming stalled due to the snow. "If a majority of these drivers had been going a little slower and had been properly equipped for snowy weather—especially if they'd taken a few minutes to put on their tire chains or maintain clear windshields—many of these accidents and traffic tie-ups could have been prevented," he added.

CORRESPONDENCE

(The following letter was given us by Mr. Rawson for publication—Editor.)

I am pleased to write a recommendation concerning the character, reputation and ability of Thomas R. Rawson of 54 Hutchinson road, Arlington.

I have known Mr. Rawson since 1930, at which time he was engaged in the trucking business with his father on the construction of the Kenmore Square Subway. Boston. I was assistant resident engineer for the City of Boston on that project and had the opportunity, therefore, to analyze his character and observe his ability as a construction man.

Since I have known him he has been principally engaged in construction work of a Public Works nature and for a four (4) year period worked as a Highway Construction Inspector for the City of Boston.

He is a man of enviable reputation and high character and is thoroughly conversant with all phases of general construction work.

Very truly yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND

Arlington's Notable Youth Program Brings Success to Local Boys

Auxiliary Police Training Results in One AYA Graduate Being Signed with New York Yankees as Possible Pitcher.

A tribute to the wonderful work that the Arlington Auxiliary Police have been doing with their youth program is found in the reports of success of former members of the program who have come back to the Auxiliary Police headquarters. Boys from all activities of the youth program have gone on and made names for themselves.

Signs with Yankees
One AYA graduate, Thomas Coughlin, of 59 Winter street, has signed with the New York Yankees as a prospective pitcher. He will be farmed out to Eastern in the Eastern League in Maryland. Tom, who is only 19 years old, played for the Pirates in the senior AYA for two years, St. Agnes' CYO for one year, and Arlington High School for two years.

signed Tom on at Plattsburg in upper New York State during the baseball school's period. Tom had received a letter telling him to report to Mahanfield for a baseball school and from there he was invited to Plattsburg for two weeks with all expenses paid.

CHARLES A. CADARIO

Another Arlington boy, Charles A. Cadario, of 64 Glenburn road, has signed with the Boston Red Sox to play with their Roanoke farm team. He is a graduate of Arlington High School and the AYA, where he was an outstanding catcher.

The dance band which plays every Friday night at the Town Hall has been another source of talent. Billy Hamilton, former leader and trumpet player for the Arcadians, now plays with Baron Hugo. Also with Baron Hugo is trombone player Dick Nash, who was president of his class at Arlington High. Terry Duquette has been singing at the Bradford Roof with Bartholemew. Frank Batista is now singing with Harry James under the name of Vinnie DeCampo.

JACK KEEFE

Governor's Request
Looking behind the scenes of the AYA, one can easily see why the program is such a successful one. Jack Keefe of 28 Alton street, who is chairman of the dance committee and president of the Arlington Auxiliary Police, told us a little of the history of the program.

In answer to a request by Governor Saltonstall for establishing a youth program, the Selectmen of Arlington appointed a man and a woman from each of the 14 precincts, who developed the nucleus of the AYA. The original dances were at the Hardy School with only a juke-box for music and an admission charge of 10 cents. A band was added shortly after from students at the Arlington Academy of Music. This band is now rated as the best non-professional band in the state.

Largest Program in Country
The original membership in this program was only 200. At present membership tickets show that 1,024 youths are active in the dance program. This makes the AYA the largest youth program in the country, according to J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI. Statistics can also prove that Arlington has the lowest juvenile delinquency record in the country. What is the reason for the phenomenal success of the AYA? Jack Keefe says that it is due to the fact that a well-organized group of men is behind it, namely the Auxiliary Police Association, Inc. The carrying out of the program was turned over to the Auxiliary by Archie Bullock, the Chief of Police. Also instrumental in founding the AYA was the original co-ordinator, the late Lieut. Dan Barry. Other neighboring towns have tried to organize youth programs but they have not experienced comparable success, Jack Keefe says. "With an accredited organization behind it, the program will last." Other towns just called on a group of individuals. Arlington has over 174 men in a recognized organization to call on, who donate their time and service without compensation.

Mrs. Gordon Williams Heads Girl Scouts

The Annual Meeting of the Arlington Girl Scout Council and the Leaders' Association was held recently at the home of Mrs. James A. Bailey. Mrs. Justin McCarthy, the retiring Commissioner, presided at the business meeting.

The two highlights of the meeting were a short talk by Mrs. Bailey, in which she gave a résumé of Girl Scouting in Arlington from the time the first Council was formed 28 years ago in the same room in which this year's annual meeting was being held, and the report in rhyme of the year's work written and read by Miss Mary Leveroni, Executive Director of the Arlington Scouts.

Following the annual reports from various Council committees, the Council officers for the coming year were elected. Mrs. Gordon Williams was elected Commissioner; Mrs. Walter Alsen, First Deputy Commissioner; Mrs. Torsten H. Reenstierna, Second Deputy Commissioner; Mrs. Harold Yeames, Secretary; Mrs. Fredrick Hill, Treasurer; Mrs. James Kidder, Assistant Treasurer. With Mrs. Alfred Yood presiding, the Leaders' Association held a brief ization behind it, the program will last." Other towns just called on a group of individuals. Arlington has over 174 men in a recognized organization to call on, who donate their time and service without compensation.

The fame of the AYA is more than just local. A West Coast sports magazine had a 15-page article on "Arlington, Mass. Model Town." Jack Keefe tells of a leather salesman from Arlington who was stopped by a woman in Chicago who asked him if the youth program was really true. That salesman made it a point to find out the minute he got back.

Kids Deserve Credit

Credit for the success goes to the Auxiliary Police, but a lot of it to the kids, also. The success of the dances and games depend on the patronage. The townspeople also make the program with their contributions. The AYA has 16 baseball teams to be fully equipped and with paid umpires. The dances alone cost more than $6300, with the baseballs and bats running well over $800 besides. The Selectmen also have been very co-operative reserving the Town Hall Friday nights as often as possible. Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Tremblay, Jack Keefe, Clarence Marsh, Arthur O'Brien, John Stephenson, Arthur Kimball, James Forsythe, Tom O'Neil, Walter Finlay, Vernon Thompson, Robert Grannan, Frank Doran, Jack Toomey, Warren Ryan, Harry Proudfoot, John Babine, Jack Podger and the beloved Lieut. Dan Barry are samples of civic-minded citizens who have also worked for the success of the AYA.

The AYA has developed ball players for the major leagues. It has given the young people a good time and kept them out of trouble. It has developed future hockey players for the high school team. But more than just enjoyment and education, the AYA has taught the youth of this town to be good sports, good ladies and gentlemen; in other words, good Americans.

Boards Recommend New Road

At a joint meeting of the Board of Selectmen and Board of Public Works an order was adopted recommending the construction this year of a new road from North Union Street to Gardner Street, adjoining the proposed housing development. The new road, which would be known as Freedom street, was proposed by the Housing Authority.

business meeting electing the following officers: President, Mrs. Alfred Yood; Vice President, Mrs. Harold Noreen; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Maurice Blacker; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Robert Penney; Treasurer, Mrs. Elwyn MacEwen.

A pin for twenty-five years of service with the Arlington Girl Scouts was awarded to Mrs. Oscar Schnitzer of the Council Advisory Board. Twenty year pins were given to Mrs. G. Howard Allen and Mrs. Arthur Sampson, also of the Advisory Board. Five year pins were awarded to Mrs. Duncan G. Campbell, Mrs. Roy Spencer, Mrs. Clifford Hall, and Mrs. Frank Swett. Thanks pins were presented to Mrs. Justin McCarthy and Mrs. J. Philip Bower. Three new members, Mrs. Edmund Frost, Mrs. William Bond and Mrs. David Shute, were elected to the Council.

Party Manners for pleasant party lines

It pays to be poised. Party line neighbors are quick to respond to those who are calm and collected when they ask for the line in an emergency. By sharing courteously, everyone benefits... and party line service is smooth.

It's good to be gracious. When a series of calls must be made, it's nice to remember the others on the line by allowing time between calls. This, too, helps give all party line neighbors their fair share of service.

A NOTE to all party line users

As a general thing, party line service is good enough to meet the requirements of most party line users.

Right now, however, many people who would normally have individual service are on party lines—because this is the only way in which we could supply telephones to the thousands who have asked for new service in the past three years. We are bending every effort to speed the day when we can provide individual service—or lines with fewer parties on them—to fill all present orders.

In the meantime, won't you remember that party line service is largely what you make it. We'll do our best to handle your calls smoothly and efficiently. But, in the long run, the quality of party line service depends a great deal on how it's used.

Old-timers Sigh as Famous Stables Become a Memory

Some of the old-timers about town heaved a sigh or two today as they stood watching workmen removing the last timbers from the site that once held the old George Clark stables on Mystic street, corner of Winslow, not to be confused, by the way, with the David Clark stables that stood in Mill street.

As far as we could learn the George Clark stables were built at least 60 years ago. There is no definite record, as the town building records do not go back that far. However, one dusty volume in the building department dated 1882, shows that George Clark paid a tax of $4 for that year. Whether it was the tax for the stables the record did not state.

Ancient Society Event

But some interesting facts have come to light regarding these old stables. It seems that when the building was completed Mr. Clark dedicated it with a dance which was one of the big society events of Arlington. The stables were already filled with blooded saddle horses, owned by the Rough Riders, one of the famous riding clubs of the day. Among those who attended the dance were such notable equestrians of the time as Frank Thompson, Warren A. Rawson, H. B. Pierce, Miss May Hardy, Miss Ruth Tauter, Miss Marion Churchill (now Mrs. William A. Muller), William A. Muller, Richard D. Greene, Horatio A. Phinney, Theodore P. Harding, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Reed, James A. Bailey, Waterman A. Taft, Dr. Charles A. Dennett, William A. Lloyd and the Misses Ethel Cousins, Ethel Frost, Katherine Sawyer and Frances Adams.

Sleek Horses There

It is to be assumed that the sleek horses poked their heads out the stalls to watch their masters and their fair partners dance the quadrille, or perhaps a polka, or even a minuet. And it can also be assumed that the dancers talked horse during the intermissions, for it was distinctly the day of the horse.

An old-timer who stood today amidst the wreckage recalled the "good old days when the stables were the real social center of the town and beautiful women and gay blades rode forth on spirited horses." There was a tear in his eye as he recalled the stag parties staged by George Clark who lived over the stables and who died a few years ago at the age of 90.

Seems Mr. Clark enjoyed company and he liked to entertain his friends in the harness room filled with the trappings of horsemanship—brilliantly shined saddles, boots and bridles with silver mounted trimmings. And besides saddle horses Mr. Clark boarded some of the best trotting horses in these parts, and in another room could be seen the gleam of fine harness and carts and buggies.

Strictly Horse

Here the talk was strictly horse with perhaps a spot of rum to warm the conversationalists on a winter's evening. And of course it can be assumed that there was considerable discussion of the relative merits of Dan Patch and Maud S, two of the famous trotters of the day. In summer Mr. Clark and his guests discussed horse outside on the green with never a thought of flies or mosquitoes—or income taxes.

"Well maybe its progress to tear down the old place, but at least I'll have my memories of these great old stables," sighed the old-timer, as another tear dropped.

Now Only a Memory

The workman in the foreground seems ready to shed a tear or two as he contemplates the ancient timbers that once upon a time served as a floor for some of the town's famous riding horses. Thus, we come to the final chapter in the history of the George Clark Stables.

Polio Benefit Game Proves Big Thriller

The hottest basketball game of the 1948-49 season in Arlington saw the Arlington Boys' Club Varsity defeat the highly favored Arlington Legion team, 35-34, in the March of Dimes Benefit Game at the Lowe Memorial Gym on last Sunday afternoon before an estimated crowd of 600 spectators. In a contest described as a battle for the Championship of Arlington, the younger and more determined Boys' Club team led by Captain Joe Keohane and coached by Joe "Red" Tobin, repeatedly came from behind to finally eke out a one-point decision over the bigger and more experienced Legionnaires.

The game was marked by the over-aggressive play of the Legion club and it took all the skill of Boys' Club guards Carty, Hanlon and Casey, to break up the attempts of the Legion forwards, led by high scorer Dinny Shea to smother the Spy Ponders.

The high point of the contest came as the final whistle sounded. With the score tied up, center Bill Stephens was fouled by a Legion player and it was the basket that Stephens calmly tossed in that actually decided the game.

In the preliminary game the undefeated Midget 100-lb. team from the Arlington Boys' Club won out over the Midget 100-lb. team from St. James CYO group. Little Swift Carroll of the Boys' Club stole the hearts of the crowd with his fine play.

Officials responsible for the program were Post Commander Richard D. Noy of Arlington Legion. Chairman William Sinclair, Arlington Polio Fund; Charles Scannell, Public Address System; John Toomey, Auxiliary Police, and James H. Sumner, Director, Arlington Boys' Club.

The lineup: BOYS' CLUB—Keohane, Cooper, Guarnotta, Ling, Stephens, Egan, Carty, O'Neill, Shea, Casey, Hanlon.

LEGION—Ahern, McFadden, Shea, Lyons, Kenealy, Motherway, Sackes, O'Brien, Whitney, Bonin.

Referees were John Finnerty of Arlington and William Moan of Newton.

Arlington Icemen Topple Medford, 3-2

Before the largest crowd of the season, some 4,348 at the Boston Garden last Saturday, the Arlington pucksters defeated a doughty Medford team by a score of 3-2 to remain undefeated and at the head of the league in the first game of the play-offs. The Arlington game did not have the usual excitement that has been customary with its past performances, probably due to the fact that they had subdued the Mustangs the previous week by a score of 7-3.

Both goalies performed their tasks well but Doug Campbell in the Arlington nets seemed the better of the two as the score indicates. Meehan scored first for Arlington in the initial period. Art Terrill, son of the Mustang baseball coach, scored the two goals for Medford. Bill Leary scored the second Arlington goal midway through the second period on a solo dash that took on a bit of humor. Leary came in from the sidelines, eluding one Medford defenseman who went flat on the ice, taking the other defenseman with him in a heap of humanity. The Medford goalie, Bob Walker, lost his head for a minute and skated out to meet Leary, but Bill skated around him to light the lamp with little difficulty. The other Arlington goal was scored by Robson.

Arlington needs only one more win, or a tie and a Melrose loss to clinch the championship for the third straight year. Melrose has 12 points to Arlington's 15. This Saturday at the Arena, Arlington will face "Skipt" Viglirolo and company from Belmont in the second game of the play-offs, starting at 1:00.

Basketball for Adults

Beginning Wednesday evening, Feb. 2, and continuing Wednesday evenings hereafter, a men's gym period will be conducted in the old gymnasium of the High School from 7 p. m. to 10 p. m., under the auspices of the Park Department.

The Park Department instructors will conduct organized calisthenics at the beginning of each class to get muscles back in shape and there will follow periods of basket shooting, short basketball scrimmages and volley ball. Further information can be obtained by calling the Park Department office, AR 6-3166. Only adults can participate in the program.

A Circus Party for Diane

Little Diane Stanley received the surprise of her young life Monday afternoon, Jan. 24, when she returned home from school to find the dining room in the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Preston, at 6 Whittemore street where she lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Stanley, converted into the atmosphere of a circus and with 10 of her playmates present. It was Diane's sixth birthday and the most glorious one she had ever experienced, she told her grandmother, Mrs. Preston.

The room was decorated in pink, green and yellow, the colors of the circus, and there was even an elephant on the table and real balloons lettered "Happy Birthday" in honor of Diane. There was no pink lemonade because lemons are hard to get, but there was exactly the food that all little girls like. And in addition there were many lovely presents from Diane's grandparents, parents and friends.

CORRESPONDENCE

FROM MR. SORENSEN

May I take this opportunity to express my appreciation for the publicity given to the announcement of my candidacy for election to the Board of Selectmen.
I wish to assure your readers and the townspeople as a whole of my intention to conduct a vigorous campaign. If elected I propose to serve all the people energetically in the cause of sound and responsible government. It is my purpose to fulfill a present need for continual public service in our town government for the benefit of the town as a whole, without any subservience to any special interest groups. Specific issues and points will be discussed in the coming weeks.

As a citizen of Arlington for many years, unobtrusively but earnestly devoted to sound and just principles and decisions in the conduct of town affairs, I offer my candidacy for the support of the average citizen, home owner and tenant alike. I trust that the voters will turn out at the polls on election day in sufficient numbers to guarantee that the newly elected selectman will represent the true majority of the townspeople.

MARCUS L. SORENSEN
Feb. 1, 1949.

To Observe Youth Week

Trinity Baptist Church School will begin the church's observance of Youth Week with the showing of a sound motion picture, "Make Way for Youth", at the Church School hour, 9:45 a. m., Sunday, February 6. It is a picture about teenagers in an ordinary American town. The kids are divided in "sets" and they know far too little about their town and the people who live in it. All young people 12 years of age and over are invited to attend the showing of this film.

A full spiritual, educational, fun and fellowship program has been planned for Youth Week, which begins Feb. 7. Its purpose is to give emphasis to the place of the youth in the church.

On Wednesday, Feb. 9, at 7:45 p. m. they will have charge of the mid-week prayer meeting. The message will be brought by Rev. Glen Paine, Secretary of Religious Education for the Massachusetts Baptist Convention. There will be special music by the young people. During the week the Young Adults, Junior Hi and Senior Hi groups will take over the project of painting the Primary Room of the church.

On Friday, the 11th, a social and recreational program will be held in the church under the direction of the four youth sponsors, Miss Wilma Corcoran, Miss Eleanor Pangborn, Mrs. Isabelle Wells and Rev. Paul Bowles. On Sunday morning at 11 the young people will conclude their week's program by having charge of the Worship Service. Mr. Bowles, minister to the youth at Trinity, will bring the message.

Reception at Trinity

This coming Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, a reception will be tendered to all the people who have joined the church during the ministry of the Rev. Lewis W. Williamson. A cordial invitation is extended to all old and new members and friends of Trinity. Refreshments will be served.

WOMAN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB

The president of the club, Mrs. J. Philip Bower, was general chairman, assisted by Mrs. G. Franklin Gruber, treasurer; Mrs. Otis R. Chandler, in charge of candy; Mrs. Albert B. Nilsson, prizes, and the servers—Mesdames Hallam T. Ring, Hollis M. Gott and H. E. LaFayette. The party took the place of the regular business meeting.

80-Year-Old Man Recalls Early Days

George A. Klingler of 1245 Massachusetts avenue will celebrate his 80th birthday on Feb. 4. He has lived all his life in Arlington. He built the house at the corner of the "foot of the rocks" when he was married in 1899. He was a "call" fireman for Arlington from 1896 to 1910. Mr. Klingler is a member of the First Methodist Church on Westminster avenue, has been an usher there for 40 years, and is now a trustee. He has rarely missed a Sunday service.

A birthday party will be given by his daughter, John E. Ronbeck, a son, Albert Klingler, has been Town Meeting Member and on the Finance Committee for many years.

Mr. Klingler is hale and hearty with a fine memory. He can remember the time "when the street cars stopped at the Center, and Massachusetts avenue above the Center was just a dirt path over which cows and pigs were driven to the Brighton slaughter houses."

Coin Display

Whether you are a numismatist (specialist in coins) or have simply the layman's practical interest in "hard money", you will probably enjoy seeing the coin collection now on display in the Massachusetts avenue window of the Cambridge Savings Bank in Harvard Square. The collection is owned by Arthur Conn, Melrose numismatist, who specializes in United States coins.

The exhibit includes gold coins commemorating important events in United States history, silver coins commemorative of national events and state anniversaries and a complete set of coins, from one cent to one dollar, issued by the U. S. Government.

Of special interest is the set of commemorative silver coins which were on display in Manila, Philippine Islands, on December 7, 1941. They were buried in rubble by Japanese bombing and later sifted from the ruins. Just before the Japanese invaded the city the coins were dropped into the ocean nearby for safekeeping. After the war, they were retrieved by divers.

School children in particular, who have never seen United States gold pieces in circulation, will be interested in seeing a complete set including eagles and double eagles.

Miss Skinner Gives Her Monologues Here

Cornelia Otis Skinner was the attraction which drew a large gathering to the Town Hall Wednesday evening, Jan. 26. This event was the second of a series of three sponsored by the First Universalist Church.

The Rev. Robert M. Rice, pastor of the church, greeted the assembly, referring to the "regular California weather" (it was snowing) and presented the famous artist.

There were six monologues, her own, covering the gamut of human emotions, as follows: "Eve of Departure", an empty headed, rich American woman, in the throes of packing in preparation for leaving Paris for home; "A Hotel Porch", at a summer resort, portraying a gossip, cranky old woman who "never missed arranging the flowers on the altar at church"; "Times Square", with its teeming stream of humanity, giving Miss Skinner a wide latitude (the highlight of the evening in this reviewer's opinion); "The Facts of Life", a screamingly funny episode, as a mother struggles to enlighten her son of twelve, who in the end reveals he thinks anyone "a perfect dumb-bell who doesn't know that"; "On the Beach" in the West Indies, a pathetic number revealing the tragedy of a white girl with black blood in her veins; "A Lady Explorer", an English woman, lecturing before the Geographic Society in America, not too familiar with her subject, who finally becoming entangled with her strings of beads and her lorgnette, skips off stepping through one long chain of pearls. Her encore, a French poem in that language, "November Wind", was a gem of artistry.

Mrs. James E. Horrigan, Jr., Mrs. Edgar R. Emory and Miss Diane Mansfield sold gardenias. Ushers included Albert G. Freeman, Jr., Abner Wyman, Ronald Barry and Fred Bamford. At the door were Mrs. Albert G. Freeman, Jr., Mrs. Ross E. Chapin, Mrs. William L. Norton and Mrs. Harold G. Creelman.

Young Harpist on Fine Arts Program

One of the features of the coming Fine Arts Program, sponsored by the P.T.A., on Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 5 and 6, in the Town Hall, will be Renee Diane Canzanelli, youthful and accomplished harpist, fourteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Canzanelli of Maynard street. Her appearance with the Philharmonic Society Orchestra will exemplify one of the purposes of the Fine Arts programs — that of presenting on the stage young, talented local people.

Miss Canzanelli will perform the difficult "Fantaisie" by Dubois. The composition affords ample opportunity for the proficient harpist. As far as known, this will be a "first performance" in New England.

When but eleven years old, Renee appeared with the same orchestra in one of the Philharmonic Society's regular series. In 1946 she participated in School Music Festival in Needham with the Junior High West Orchestra, under Hassler Einzig. Also competing in the soloist division, she received the highest possible rating. Last year she performed with the Boston Orchestral Society, under Edgar Curtis. Many clubs and societies have engaged her on programs.

Renee's early musical instruction was under her mother's tutelage. After selecting the harp, her first teacher was Miss Caroline Mazzocco, also of Arlington. For the past three and a half years Miss Canzanelli has been studying with one of Boston's finest teachers, Miss Nellie Zimmer.

PEER GYNT SUITE Grieg

Edvard Grieg was born in Norway in 1843, and died there in 1907. In his music Grieg developed a style that echoed the Norwegian folk-music. He wrote incidental music for the great dramatist Ibsen's play, Peer Gynt, from which this Peer Gynt Suite is taken. The Morning Mood depicts the sun rising, and Peer Gynt contemplating his world. Ase's Death is a melancholy dirge. Anitra's Dance is gay music in mazurka time. In the Hall of the Mountain King pictures gnomes, goblins and elves in their mountain caverns.

LIEBESLIEDER WALTZES Brahms

Johannes Brahms was born in Hamburg, Germany, in 1833, and died in Vienna in 1897. "FINLANDIA" Sibelius

Jean Sibelius was born in 1865 and is still living in Finland. His music has the broad expanse of the Scandinavian country where he has lived all his life. "Finlandia" is more famous as the musical symbol of Finland than its national anthem. It is the voice of the Finnish people. The reed instruments sound a hymn for freedom. The strings sing a prayer of hope. The music then thunders to a triumphant conclusion.
